

SPRING CREEK

Many of the residents who call Elko their home actually live in Spring Creek, a mostly residential community that stretches several miles between the county seat and the scenic Ruby Mountain range.

The community is governed by a property-owners association, which also cares for amenities such as a private marina and campground. But Spring Creek also has commercial businesses, including a casino, grocery store and restaurants.

Near the base of the Ruby Mountains lies the 23.4 square mile rural community of Spring Creek. Outdoor become synonymous. Lamoille Canyon, Southfork Reservoir State Park, and the Ruby Lake National Wildlife Refuge are all within a short drive. There is easy access to Spring Creek via Lamoille Highway (SR227) from Interstate 80 in Elko, Nevada.

Newcomers are welcomed and considered a valuable resource who bring fresh perspective and experience. It is easy to become involved in many active youth and adult clubs and organizations available.

Spring Creek is family friendly. An example is the outdoor recreation at our 32 acre stocked private marina, which provides opportunities for fishing, canoeing, wildlife viewing, covered picnic areas with grills, open space and playground equipment.
